Spaying and neutering are healthy for you pet ...30 sec

Narrator:

“Did you know that spaying and neutering your pet protects them from diseases such as mammary tumors and testicular cancer? Also, by spaying and neutering your pet, you help to control pets’ homelessness and could save a massive number of pets from kill-shelters.

According to the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animal, “millions of healthy dogs and cats being euthanized in the United States each year simply because there aren’t enough homes to go around.” Please visit sc4pets.org or your local veterinarian for more information. This message is brought to you by Second Chance 4 Pets Network.”
